Global Graduate Program Looking for a HR Intern

Dear Student / future Graduate:

We in ZF Group believe in young talents. This is why we have created the Global Graduate Program in order to support you in your professional life. From the very beginning of your career, you have the unique opportunity to discover the ZF culture, learn about its strategy and understand current and future challenges. You will have the chance to work closely with the members of the Management Committee and in different locations. Therefore, an excellent starting point at work and a solid preparation to make the good decisions regarding your own professional development.

What does this program offer you?

It will help you acquire the necessary skills and qualities you will need on your way to success. Here are the most attractive elements of the program:

- Opportunity to work on strategic and creative projects
- Opportunity to work abroad and discover the different areas of ZF
- Common as well as individual trainings
- Get support from an experienced mentor from the management team
- Working closely with the Management Committee of the Passive Safety Systems division
- Participate in networking events such as business breakfasts
- Build an extensive network within the global organization

Your key responsibilities:

- Offering support to the HR team on topics such as CSR, Communication and Recruitment
- Travelling to other ZF Group locations, according to the program requirements, for different projects
- Participating at various job fairs and maintaining contact with student organizations

Your profile:

- Fresh graduate of bachelor studies OR student in the final year (Psychology – advantage)
- Fluent in English and with a medium level of MS Office knowledge
- Very good communication and team-working skills
- Flexible, creative and results-oriented
- Availability to work in international projects and to travel
